SWAMP LANDS.

An Important Hearing Involving 300,000 Acres

OF LAND IN MICHIGAN BEFORE SECRETARY VILAS.

A Number of Villages Have Been Erected On the Disputed Tract—Excluded From Secretary Whitney's Report on the Condition of the Navy—Other Washington Notes.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—An important hearing took place indirectly involving 300,000 acres of land in Michigan before Secretary Vilas at the interior department. Friday. It is the most important land case that have arisen in the department for several years. It involves indirectly about 300,000 acres in Michigan, originally granted to the several railroads in that state.

Some 1,300 acres of swamp lands are claimed by the state of Michigan, under the act of September 28, 1850. Subsequently the lands were surveyed and declared not to be swamps. They were taken from the state, and as such opened by the government to private entry. This action the state disputes, holding that the action of the government in originally declaring the lands "swamp lands" was illegal.

The roads now own some 180,000 acres of them. About one year ago the state began the prosecution of these suits to recover the land, the present value of which is something like $2,000,000. The case involves the larger part of all the railroad lands in the upper peninsula of Michigan, and if the claim of the state holds good, whole villages will be found to have been erected upon lands purchased from the railroad companies, and to which they never possessed a title.

The suits were brought in the name of the state by Cyrus G. Luce, governor, and ex-Senator Christy, and many other leading lawyers of the state, have been retained as counsel. The point in the claim of the state is that the lands which were granted to the railroads were erroneously marked on the books of the land office, and that they rightfully belonged to the state as swamp lands under the general act of 1850. The officials of the land office say that if the lands were really swamp lands the state has a legal and equitable claim, no matter to whom the railroads have disposed of them.

Messrs. Britton and Tracy appeared for the state of Michigan. The railroad men present were: William L. Warner, president of the Flint & Lake Marquette railway; T. J. O'Brien, general counsel of the Grand Rapids & Indiana; O. M. Barnes, of the Jackson, Lansing & Saginaw; Ashley Poma, attorney of the Michigan Central, and J. A. Chandler, of Chicago, solicitor of the Minnesota railway and mining syndicate. These roads, to whom the odd sections of the lands in question were granted, have disposed of a large portion of them, and the present owners comprise many of the wealthy men in the northwest, including both of the Michigan senators and several members of the house.

The secretary's decision is not expected for several weeks.

Unannounced Ship.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—Secretary Whitney has presented his annual report to the president. He says:

"So far as armored ships are concerned, the subject is yet to be treated in a broad way by the department and by congress. At present the conditions are such that everything necessary to a first-class fighting ship can be produced and furnished to the department in this country as soon as in the course of construction any element or feature is required; but this has never heretofore until the present time been true, and therefore the consideration of the subject has been necessarily postponed by the department until the present. The efforts of the department in ship construction have necessarily, since March, 1885, been devoted to unarmored vessels; and as to these the department is able to report that when the ships in course of construction and those authorized shall have been completed, the United States will rank second among the nations in the possession of unarmored cruisers or 'commerce destroyers' having the highest characteristics, viz., of a size 5,000 tons and upwards, and possessing speed nineteen knots and upwards."

The Inaugural Ball.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—A contract has been signed by Governor Black and Chairman Britton, of the inaugural committee, for the use of the pension building in which to hold the inaugural ball.

When the notification committee appointed by the Chicago convention had waited upon Gen. Harrison and Mr. Morton, they adjourned to meet in Washington on inaugural day.

Mr. John C. Dougherty, secretary of the committee, has arranged for quarters and a place in the inaugural procession for the committee, which is composed of one delegate from each state, territory and the District of Columbia. It is expected that many of the members of the committee will be accompanied by their wives.

It Was An Accident.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—There is no foundation for the story that during an exhibition given by Mitchell and Kirah at Kierman's theater Thursday night a shot was fired, intended for one of them, J. W. Robinson, a drunken rowdy, accidentally discharged a pistol in an upper box, the ball lodging in the ceiling. The report was not noticed by the audience, which supposed it to be part of the performance. Robinson was locked up on a charge of carrying concealed weapons, and was fined $20 this morning. Friends of Kirah and Mitchell are very sore over the cold reception accorded them in the Kierman arena here, and have endeavored to exaggerate the incident into an evidence of hostility.

The Southern Democrats.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The World's Washington correspondent telegraphs an interview with "one of the most prominent and influential Democrats in the United States," whose name is not given, but who is described as having been for over a quarter of a century one of the recognized leaders of the party. He declares that the southern Democrats, while forming only a minority of the party, have arrogated to themselves the best offices in congress, and that their prominence had a very decided effect on the election. He complains of the relegation of well known Democrats of the north to inferior posts, and thinks a little more modesty on the part of the southern leaders is desirable.

Had Pays no Indemnity of $10,000.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The United States consul at Port-au-Prince informs the department of state under date of November 16, that the seaman William Jones, of Boston, Mass., which was captured on the 20th of October while proceeding to the natives, and arbitrarily ordered to Port-au-Prince, has been released, and an indemnity of $10,000 paid to Capt. Collins, the principal owner, and all port charges and customs duties on the cargo remitted. The consul says this may be considered a very satisfactory disposition of the incident of the illegal capture and detention of the vessel.

Disbursements Unusually Large.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—The treasury disbursements have been unusually large during the month of November, the pension payments alone amounting to $24,000,000. In consequence of this it is estimated at the department that the public debt statement will show an apparent increase of $11,500,000 in the debt since November 1, instead of the usual monthly reduction. There is, of course, no actual increase in the debt itself, but merely a reduction in the cash in the treasury available for the payment of the debt.

Chief of the Dead Letter Office.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 3.—S. R. Hall, of Minnesota, was today appointed chief of the dead letter office.

WHITE CAP WARNINGS.

Ripley and Manchester, Ohio, and Augusta, Kentucky, Greatly Excited.

RIPLEY, O., Dec. 3.—White Cap warnings are getting frequent in this part of the country.

Thursday night Chief Thompson received a postal card from the White Caps, at least it was signed as such, telling him to notify Jim Ashton and Bob Harris, a white man who lives with a colored woman, that they were onto them, and in consequence Ashton left this part of the country.

Several others have been warned, and they are shaking with fear. Consternation has seized upon the colored people, and every body goes armed at night.

A great deal of excitement is now observable in this place over a report that Messrs. Henry Fleg and Harvey Ramey, two gentlemen who had been over to Georgetown attending a trial, had seen the White Caps on their way here.

A reporter called upon Mr. Fleg, wharf-master of Ripley, and asked him about it. Mr. Fleg said that about two miles out they had two men disguised similar to those that visited Sandin. Both gentlemen were unarmed, but the White Caps, it was said, were simply peeped into their faces and permitted them to go on untouched. Excitement is at a fever heat.

They Visit Manchester.

MANCHESTER, O., Dec. 3.—The White Caps visited Manchester Thursday night, and posted the following notices:

"Evil doers, men and women, take warning. First, the visitor; second, the persecutor; third, the helper; fourth, the regular."

"We are coming. Prepare for better or worse. Whites, Advance Again."

The town is all excitement.

The Switchmen's Strike.

INDIANAPOLIS, Dec. 3.—The situation regarding the strike does not show any signs of immediate improvement. The strikers remain firm, and all efforts at a compromise have so far been unavailing. Chief Sargent, of the Firemen's Brotherhood, has been here for several days, and Chief Arthur is expected in a day or two. Railroads are moving some cars with the new men and the aid of passenger conductors acting as switchmen, but the blockade continues. The supply is short, and a severe cold spell now would cause much suffering.

The Mine Still Burning.

CALUMET, Mich., Dec. 3.—Fire in the No. 3 shaft of the C. & M. and Hecla mines is still burning fiercely, and is apparently beyond control and will consume timbering in a large part of the mine. No hope is entertained of rescuing the eight miners and timberman who were cut off from escape at midnight Thursday. Mine officials are preparing to fight the fire with carbonic acid gas in the same manner as last year. Immense volumes of smoke is issuing from the shafts and crevices though all are covered.

Held for Murder.

WARREN, Ind., Dec. 3.—Friday morning an affidavit was filed before a magistrate here charging Elias Jackson with murder in the first degree. The prisoner waived a preliminary hearing, and was remanded to jail. A special grand jury will convene Monday to consider the case. The examination of Glasgow, the accomplice of Jackson will be held on Monday. Mrs. Jackson called at the jail today to see her husband, and there was a tearful scene.

Another Big Mineral Strike.

HELENA, Mont., Dec. 3.—The second big mineral strike in Helena was made Friday. The first was about a month ago, on the principal street of Placer Gold. The strike Friday was in the residence portion of the city of a gold quartz vein seven feet wide, assaying handsomely. Property owners in the vicinity are much excited.

Two Boys Burned to Death.

CHIPPewa FALLS, Wis., Dec. 3.—A large barn in the town of Embury, this county, filled with logging supplies, and destroyed by fire Thursday evening, and two boys named Woods, who were sleeping in the barn, were burned to death.

The Weather.

Indications—Fair, preceded by light snow on the lakes; slightly colder; northerly winds.

DISINTEGRATION

Going on In the Ranks of the Knights of Labor.

THE NEW YORK TIMES CALLS POWDERLY AN AUTOCRAT.

And Says T. B. Barry Is Preparing to Expose the Corrupt Workings of the General Executive Board During the Time He Was a Member—"What Will the Dissatisfied Knights Do?"

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The Times says:

"The heaven of disintegration in the order of the Knights of Labor has been strengthened by the injustice done to individuals, local and district assemblies, and the introduction of the system of autocracy in the person of T. V. Powderly, general master workman. The heaven will ferment and froth until the mass will become sour."

"T. B. Barry has gone home to prepare for a thorough exposure of the rottenness and corruption of the general executive board during the time that he was a member of it, and he will afterwards start out on a tour to work upon new workmen's organization. Other disgruntled delegates have already begun the work of secret propaganda against Powderly, his cabinet and the entire ring that supports him. Even James E. Quinn is displeased with Powderly, because he would not allow his friend Turner to be elected general secretary-treasurer."

"David J. Naughton, Philip McGrath and George W. Dunn, who had gone to Indianapolis from the anti Quin faction of District Assembly No. 40, have not been idle since their return from Indianapolis, for they have been able to form the nucleus of a new organization. Whether it will be a secret society like the Knights of Labor, or an open union, it is too early to say, but the promoters of the new scheme will not affiliate with the American Federation of Labor, because they have no faith in its leading men. William Reed, another of the delegates of the anti Quin party to the general assembly, thinks that the order is doomed to ruin."

"That Powderly is an absolute autocrat no one will question. Should the general executive board oppose him Reed believes that he could and would expel any one of its members that would dare to assert himself. He expelled T. B. Barry from the general executive board before he was clothed with autocratic power, and that in spite of the written constitution of the order, which provides that a knight must be tried before the court of his local assembly."

"Men who have thus far supported Powderly will continue to support him, even if he should be proved guilty of violating all of the commandments. It is not because they are ignorant or fanatical. They are neither the one or the other. They are simply politicians, and as long as they know that he has the disposing of so much patronage that inclines salaries to the amount of $40,000, they will stand by him."

"As to whether money will keep running into the treasury is another question, and Reed believes that there will be a great falling off in the amount."

"What the dissatisfied knights will do is not an easy question to answer. Reed has no faith in the American Federation of Labor, and he doubts whether Barry's movement will succeed. A careful canvass would first have to be made among the dissatisfied members, and the new organization would develop very slowly, if at all. A secret organization on a large scale is hardly practicable, as has been seen with the Knights of Labor, for as soon as a body of workmen becomes large its members will talk and the proceedings will be published."

Withdrawn From the Knights.

BOSTON, Dec. 3.—The piano and organ varnishers and finishers, at a meeting here last night, decided to withdraw from the Knights of Labor and form an open union. The members of this craft, in times past, have been among the strongest supporters of Powderly's policy. There was much enthusiasm, and a long list of names was signed to the roll. If the movement succeeds, the leaders will endeavor to organize similar bodies in other cities, and if these join in the movement an effort will be made to organize an international union.

THE PAL OF "JACK THE RIPPER"

Writes a Letter to the Chief of the Minneapolis Police.

MINNEAPOLIS, Dec. 3.—The following is a verbatim copy of a letter received by the chief of police. It was written on a foolscap sheet, which clearly furnishes at least reasonable indications that it was not written in the West hotel, as claimed therein. The hand is bold and round:

"Chief of Police, Minneapolis:

"GENTLEMEN—You had better close up the 'secret houses' on First street before December 8 or you will have a reign of terror and blood equal to the Whitechapel, of London, England. I am a pal of Jack McCurdy, alias 'Jack the Ripper,' of London, and have been in Minneapolis just three days, and at present time am in the West hotel writing this. Time is just 3:30 p. m., Wednesday."

"As soon as I finish this I go to St. Paul and make some arrangements, and then on December 8 I return to Minneapolis. Then, beware, for blood shall tinge the 'father of waters' as it has the Thames of England. Until then, by by, and be sure you do as I direct, for the day dawning of the morrow is not more sure than the death of fifteen unfortunates by my hand. So farewell until December 8. Yours truly,

"WILLIAM HOLLEN."

"Alias 'Knife Stab,' late of London, England."

Underneath is a cut of a nude woman with a knife in her heart and her bowels cut open, followed by the words, "This is a fair sample of what my work will be."

Lockout Ended.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The secretary of the ale and porter brewing employes said Friday that the lockout among those employes was virtually at an end and nothing more would be heard of it.

FOLLOWER OF M'GLYNN.

Archbishop Corrigan Demands an Apology From Father Malone.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—The indignation of the parishioners of St. Peter and Paul's church, Whitehouse, is still at a white heat. They declared that their beloved priest, Father Sylvester Malone, received a deliberate affront from Archbishop Corrigan. A granddaughter of his old friend, Mayor Berry, of Brooklyn, was to be married, and as the bridegroom, Mr. Eugene Emilio Vorel, was a resident of New York city, it was decided to have the ceremony performed at St. Leo's church. Miss Anne Berry naturally desired that Father Malone should officiate, and he joyfully consented.

As the Whitehouse pastor belonged to another diocese it was considered proper to ask the consent of Archbishop Corrigan that Father Malone might marry the young couple in the New York church. A brother of the bride, Mr. Carroll Berry, accepted the duty and waited upon the archbishop. To his surprise Mr. Berry was refused an audience with Archbishop Corrigan, and was compelled to send his errand through the butler.

The answer was that Father Malone would not be permitted to officiate at the marriage until he had apologized to the archbishop, though he was not informed what offense the priest committed. Father Malone had taken a strong personal interest in the quarrel between Dr. McGlynn and the archbishop, and he had espoused the cause of the deposed priest. He had seen no reason for apologizing to the archbishop, and, as it turns out, does not intend to do so.

POINTED PARAGRAPHS.

Topics of the Times Given in a Terse and Spicy Manner.

Frank Coons, of Taylorville, Ind., accidentally shot and killed himself.

The trial of Anarchist Hronek continues at Chicago, but develops no sensational testimony.

Billy Gobin won his fight with Mike Bolin at Albany, N. Y., in the thirtieth round on a foul.

Fernandina, Fla., raised her quarantine against refugees Friday, as the yellow fever has disappeared there.

The joint board of arbitration of the National League and American Base Ball Association is in session at Pittsburgh.

David McMaster, a prominent young merchant of Jamestown, Pa., was found dead in his store Thanksgiving morning, with a hole in his forehead. Probable suicide.

Thomas Baker, proprietor of Baker's theater, Chicago, assigned Friday. The liabilities are estimated at $50,000, and it is expected to keep the house running.

John H. Meyer was hanged at Placerville, Cal., Friday, for the murder of John Lowell, a ranchman, last March. Meyer was so weak that he had to be almost carried to the scaffold.

Saturday at 1 p. m., the end of the 1884 hour of the great walking match in New York. Lathwood was exactly eight miles ahead of his own previous world record of 585 miles.

"You've taken poison!" "I know it; I want to die!" was the quiet reply of Alf Bisbet, of Norwalk, O., to the remonstrance of his friend, who saw him take a dose of laudanum in beer. He died.

Postoffice inspectors arrested J. H. Snowden, deputy postmaster at Center Ridge, Ark., for systematically robbing mails. His pecuniaries run back several months, and amount to $1,300. Snowden is a doctor, minister and leading merchant of the town.

W. L. Williams, the mad-rider between Decatur and Oakville, Ala., was shot from ambush and instantly killed. The assassin is unknown. The mail pouch, containing several valuable letters, was unharmed, but Williams' pocketbook was missing. Bloodhounds have been sent for.

An investigation of Greenwald (paper) cemetery at Indianapolis discloses a grave state of affairs. Bodies are buried less than two feet below the surface, the vaults are overcrowded with horrors, and the landscape gardener, Nelson, has been selling the tombstones and chopping down the trees for cordwood.

A Baby Incubator.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Baby Edith Eleanor McLean has been taken from the hatching cradle in the Ward's Island hospital. Little Edith is the baby who was born thirteen weeks before her time in the Emigrant hospital, and, as the only means of preserving her life, was taken from her mother and placed in a patent incubator or hatching cradle, thus far the first time successfully used in this country. When placed in the cradle, September 27, little Edith was only fourteen inches long, and weighed but a little over two pounds. When released from the incubator she was twenty inches long, and weighed six pounds. Her mother took her to Birmingham, in this state, where her sister lives.

California's Official Vote.

SACRAMENTO, Dec. 3.—The electoral vote of California, as announced by the secretary of state Friday, is: Harrison, 134,809; Cleveland, 117,729; Fisk, 5,701; Curtis, 1,521.

WINCHESTER, O., Dec. 3.—There is no truth whatever in the report sent out from Sandin that a Mrs. Jester and her daughter had been switched on their naked backs by the White Caps. The excitement has not abated, however, and a visit is looked for on Saturday night.

Official Returns From Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE, Wis., Dec. 3.—The belated official returns from remote counties have come in.

The official canvass shows that the total vote for president is 351,634, an increase of 34,775 over the vote of 1884. The vote of 1884 was 316,858, an increase over that of 1880 of 52,706.

Harrison's plurality, as stated, is 21,271; Blaine's plurality in 1884 was 11,580, a gain for Harrison of 6,331. Governor Board's plurality is 29,265; Governor Ross's plurality in 1886 was 15,518, a gain for Board of 1,357. The prohibition vote of the state, for president, is 14,277; the vote for St. John in 1884 was 7,656, a gain for Fisk of 6,621, or, comparing the prohibition vote of 1886, 0m for governor, 17,089, there is a loss of 2,283. The labor vote of the state for president is 8,552; the vote for Cochrane for governor in 1880 was 18,718, a loss for Streeter of 10,166.

A RARE OFFER

To Increase Our Circulation and Benefit Our Subscribers.

The BULLETIN is pleased to announce that special arrangements have been closed whereby it is enabled to make the following rare offer: For only $2.50, cash in advance, we will send, for one year, to any address the MAYSVILLE WEEKLY BULLETIN and the largest newspaper on the North American continent, THE NEW YORK WEEKLY WORLD.

The WEEKLY BULLETIN is the leading paper of Northeastern Kentucky. It is not a new aspirant for public favor, but has an established circulation. It keeps its readers thoroughly informed on all the important events of the city, county, state and world. Farmers will find its "Stock, Field and Farm" column carefully edited. In fact, the people of Mason and adjoining counties cannot find a better local paper.

The New York Weekly World is now the largest paper on the North American continent, each addition having twelve pages and eighty-four columns. In addition to its other features, it publishes in each issue a high-class novel by some well known and popular author, such as Thackeray, Irving, Gaborian, Wilkie Collins, H. Rider Haggard and others equally famous.

Bear in mind the price—$2.50—is but little more than the regular price of one paper.

This offer is open for a few weeks only, and should be taken advantage of at once. Our prime object in making it is to secure new subscribers, but the offer is open to old subscribers who will settle up and pay for one year's subscription in advance. Mention this to your neighbors, and let us hear from you without delay.

The South's Prosperity.

"One of the evidences of the steadily growing prosperity and widening commercial interests of the new South," says the New York Graphic, "may be found in the greatly increased demand for Southern pig iron. Contracts for delivering all through the coming year are now being made at an increase of fifty cents and $1 per ton over the year preceding. It should be born in mind that less than fifteen years have passed since the first order for Southern pig iron came from the East, and the aggregate sales of the first year did not amount to 500 tons. During the past twelve months the sales are estimated at 150,000 tons. This advance seems almost marvelous, but it is backed up by figures that are incontestable. It should be remembered, too, that this estimate does not include the Virginia iron works, but only those surrounding Chattanooga, Birmingham and Anniston. Careful analysis has shown that the iron turned out by the furnaces at these places is equal to the best Scotch iron imported to this country. Indeed, the American Scotch irons are rapidly driving the imported article out of the market, because they are cheaper in price and equal in quality. Their product is another instance of the improved facilities of Southern development and the prosperity that must come in its wake."

The New York Press has worked itself into a passion, and shouts: "Does the South want any more lead and steel? Has it not had enough of armies tramping its crops into the dust and expending its industries with fearful effect?"

This is a nice way to bring about a friendly and brotherly feeling between the two sections. If Cleveland had been elected such gibberish about the South would not have been heard of.

It is reported at Washington City that the President will appoint Ex-Governor Proctor Knott to the vacancy upon the Civil Service Commission made by the promotion of John H. Oberly to the head of the Indian Bureau.

It is sad to learn that Senator Beck's health is in a precarious condition. Those closest to him fear that he will be unable to attend to his Senatorial duties at the coming session.—Cincinnati Enquirer.

IS MARRIAGE A FAILURE?

(Testimony on both sides—Judgment Rendered.)

The following beautiful poem, by Henry T. Stanton, poet laureate of Kentucky, author of "The Muncyless Man" and other poems, was written on the spur of the moment for a friend and without thought of publication. The poet captured it at a glance. Mr. Stanton is now holding a position in the Interior Department:

Is marriage a failure? I asked of a maid, Whose lips had gone out from the shrine to the shade.
 Whose skirts were all dragged and stained with the dew
 Of grasses the scythe of the years had gone through—
 Is marriage a failure? and turning her head,
 To the long-trodden path she would never more tread,
 Lamenting her fate, with an audible sigh,
 From out of her bitterness, answered me:
 "Aye."

Is marriage a failure? I asked of a bride,
 Who lived in the present with fullness of pride,
 Whose lips were just meeting the flagon of wine
 She must drink to the lees in her revel divine—
 Is marriage a failure? and quick in her cheek
 The happy heart-current was eager to speak.
 Her lips were apart and her eyes were aglow,
 As, out of her heaven, she answered me:
 "No."

Is marriage a failure? I asked of a man Whose virtues of nature were "read as he ran."
 Whose purpose in life was "to have and to hold."
 Whose passion was self and whose duty gold—
 Is marriage a failure? and quicker he went—
 No moment in folly like this to be spent—
 But hearing full well as he hastened on by,
 He laughed in my face and he answered me:
 "Aye!"

Is marriage a failure? I asked of a pair
 Who stood in the sunset with silvery hair.
 Whose evening of life was approaching its close,
 In odor of hay and in scent of the rose—
 Is marriage a failure? and woman and man,
 Who tolling together had tested the plan,
 Who entered the brook and kept on with its flow,
 Till reaching the ocean—they answered me:
 "No."

Is marriage a failure? I asked of a beast,
 Entouched at the haud of a halloving priest,
 Whose will was his law, whose muscle his boast,
 Who looked on the world as his brothel at most—
 Is marriage a failure? and up from his lair,
 From caverns of darkness, from foulness of air,
 Came loudly his savage and sensual cry,
 That told of his nature and answered me:
 "Aye."

Is marriage a failure? I asked of the birds,
 When their music of spring they were setting
 to words,
 When building their homes on leafy estates
 And teaching their young to be couples and mates—
 Is marriage a failure? and out of the grove,
 Their chorus of joy and their voices of love,
 The singers in answer were united so,
 That echoes from everywhere uttered their
 "No."

Is marriage a failure? I said to myself,
 As I peered in the eyes of a tangle-haired elf,
 And then in the graver and holier face
 Of her of my bosom—thank God for His grace—
 Is marriage a failure? and out of my breast,
 In pity for all of such bondage unblessed,
 With every glad pulse of my being aflow,
 The answer came swelling, "A thousand times, No!"

MAJOR CHENOWETH has about recovered from his late spell of sickness and will be out in a day or so.

A SON of Ex Lieutenant Governor John C. Underwood died at Covington Saturday, of diphtheria.

MESSES. CALVERT & BRANNON, of Lewisburg, are feeding one hundred and twenty cattle at Rogers' distillery.

REV. J. N. PRESTRIDGE, of Hopkinsville, is assisting in a protracted meeting in the Baptist Church at Mayslick.

MR. F. A. SAVAGE has bought four lots from W. E. Tabb and others in Tabb's subdivision of Dover for $300.

THERE have been forty-two additions to the Main Street M. E. Church at Covington during a meeting now in progress.

COLONEL E. H. TAYLOR, JR., was elected Mayor of Frankfort Saturday over Judge Alvin Duvall. The vote stood 681 to 631.

D. C. S., one of the trotters campaigned by Mr. James W. Fitzgerald the past season, has been sold to eastern parties for $1,500.

E. C. HOUTSON's hotel at Bradford's Landing, Bracken County, was destroyed by fire Friday. The blaze started from a defective flue.

THE Kentucky Central's new iron bridge over Licking River was completed yesterday, and the outgoing train this morning was the first to cross it.

At Lexington Saturday, Jesse Atchison confessed to killing Dode Jenkins during a barroom fight some days ago. The accused was given fourteen years in the "pen."

MR. T. M. WADE, of the firm of Earl & Wade, Cincinnati, contemplates opening out a commission house in this city. He has been here several days looking for a suitable location.

THE rumbling of wheels of the trains on the M. & B. S. are plainly heard in this place, while the whistles of the locomotives sound as if they were only a mile or two away.—West Union Defender.

At Lexington, Saturday, Mr. Tom Robinson, son of General James F. Robinson, Internal Revenue Collector of this district, was thrown from his horse and fell on his head, suffering concussion of the brain. He was in a precarious condition at last accounts.

MR. WILLIAM M. TUGMAN, a well-known Democratic attorney of Cincinnati, was married Thanksgiving Day to Miss Alice Marion Cameron. The groom taught school in Aberdeen some years ago and read law under Mr. T. C. Campbell, of this city.

BON O'BERRY, the negro charged with shooting and wounding Bill Combs Thanksgiving night, was arrested Saturday afternoon and committed to jail. His examining trial takes place this afternoon at 2 o'clock. He confesses the shooting, out says he did it in self-defense.

THE protracted meeting in the M. E. Church, South, is still in progress. The attendance last night was the largest yet, many being unable to get seats. Preaching again this afternoon at three o'clock and this evening at seven o'clock. All are invited and will be cordially welcomed.

THE Rt. Rev. William Taylor, Bishop of Africa, and Rt. Rev. J. N. Galleher, Bishop of New Orleans, sailed from New York on the Gallia Saturday. Bishop Galleher is a native of Mason County, his early days having been spent at Washington. His father afterwards kept the old Goddard House in this city, removing from here to Cincinnati.

ROBERT BLACK, the wounded engineer, was removed to his home in Covington, Thursday. He is able to walk, and the only trouble now is his mind, which is not yet clear on account of the wounds on his head; but he was able to recognize his friends Thursday, and was delighted to know that he was going home.—Paris Kentuckian.

IN the Common Pleas Court of Brown County Saturday the case of Richardson, Stivers & Co. vs. the Brooks-Waterfield Company was decided before Judge Loudon, the jury bringing in a verdict for $321 for plaintiffs. The case has been in court several years. Judgement was for the full amount claimed. The plaintiffs are tobacco buyers, doing business at Ripley.

GOODS suitable for bridal and holiday presents are now being displayed by Hopper & Murphy, the jewelers. Solid silver case goods, bronze figures and bronze clocks, silver-plated ware, brass mirrors and plaques, imported ware, diamonds, rings, earrings, pins, brooches and studs. Ladies' and gent's gold watches $20 and upwards; gold and silver head umbrellas at reduced prices; 18 k plain rings. dtf

THE Lexington Press tells of a rather novel way in which a party of hunters caught fifteen rabbits Thanksgiving Day. It says: "As soon as the rabbit was started, away would go the whole crowd, making about as much noise as a baby earthquake, until, frightened and tired out, the little animal would be overtaken. At this point the foremost rider would dash up alongside and, throwing himself from his horse, seize or run down the exhausted game on foot."

W. E. BENNINGTON, a young attorney of Ripley, and George McKee, a well-known farmer, became engaged in a difficulty Saturday afternoon. Bennington is administrator of his uncle's estate, and the difficulty grew out of some disagreement in regard to matters connected with the property. McKee received several bad wounds on the head with a slung-shot, while Bennington was not hurt. Bennington is under arrest. McKee's injuries may prove fatal.

Hardeman Released.

THE trouble Mike Hardeman got himself into at Lexington by telling that he had killed a negro here in Maysville has been mentioned. The matter turned out to be a little more serious than Hardeman bargained for.

THE accused was taken before Judge Walton, who ordered the case transferred to this city for trial. Friday evening a big policeman from Lexington, with Mike in charge, presented himself to Judge Coons at the latter's residence on West Front street, shortly after the arrival of the train. The Judge had heard of the story, and knew there was no truth in the charge, but it was late and the self-accused man was committed to jail until Saturday, when he was brought out in the afternoon and formally discharged.

The Opening Deferred.

"Although the Maysville and Big Sandy railroad will be completed by January 1," says the Courier-Journal, "President Ingalls has decided not to open the line for regular business until March 1, when it will be formally thrown open its entire length. Finishing, as the construction crews will, in the dead of winter, the company thinks it not a good policy to begin operation at once, but, have a force of men ballasting the roadbed, and getting it in such shape that fast running may be made with the first train. Business over the road will be phenomenally heavy, and Mr. Ingalls prefers losing a little time that could otherwise amount to but little, to having any but the best and firmest road."

"In consequence of the conclusion, the change of offices from Louisville to Cincinnati will not occur until March 1."

Alleged "White Caps" at Augusta.
A special from Augusta says that place was in a fever of excitement over the following notice which was found posted on a large sycamore tree in the business portion of the town Saturday morning:

"To Whom It May Concern:
"We, the White Caps of Bracken County, demand the editors of Augusta papers to leave this county within the next ten days, or we will pay them a visit. We also want Marion Londerback, Dr. Mullins and Joe Kluhsen to keep off the streets after 10 o'clock, and also Dr. Hobday after 12 o'clock, or the wagon-whip will be wielded in the hands of said persons, and endue them to stay at home. Take warning.
THE WHITE CAPS."

The notice was headed with the skull and cross bones, and at the bottom was a picture of a wagon-whip.

The special adds that the editors have decided to "hold the fort" against all comers. Brother Morris was in this city Saturday afternoon, but it is not known whether he was fleeing from the "White Caps" or laying in a supply of ammunition for an attack from the alleged regulators.

Baptist Church Burned.

THE Baptist Church at Washington caught fire Saturday morning about 10 o'clock from a defective flue, and burned to the ground. The citizens of the place succeeded in saving some of the furniture.

The building was a small frame and stood in the old Baptist burying-ground. It was erected a few years ago at a cost of $1,200 or $1,500. There was no insurance.

Death of Mrs. Susanna D. Nolin.

Mrs. Susanna D. Nolin, whose critical illness has been noticed, died this morning at half past one o'clock at the family residence on Forest avenue. She was stricken with paralysis some years ago, and had been a great sufferer. The funeral will take place Wednesday at 1:30 p. m. at the residence, after which the remains will be interred in the Maysville and Mason County Cemetery. Rev. Thomas Hanford, assisted by Revs. D. A. Beardsley and W. S. Priest, will conduct the services.

The deceased's maiden name was Terhune. She was a native of Fleming County, and was in the seventy-ninth year of her age. She was the mother of ten children, nine of whom survive her.

Stock, Field and Farm.

Jas. B. Hadley, of Fleming, sold to Blair & Howe 34 fat hogs weighing 12,010 pounds, or an average of 353 8-34 pounds, at $4 per hundred.

It is estimated that from 5,000,000 to 6,000,000 pounds of turkey and 1,000,000 quarts of cranberries are necessary to enable the city of New York to enjoy the Thanksgiving feast.

The Standard Journal notes the sale of a lot of 320 lb. hogs at 4 1/2 cents, thirteen 1,500 lb. cattle at 5 cents; a car load of 1,225 lb. cattle at 3 1/2 cents; twenty fat cattle, weight 1,450 lbs., at 5 1/2 cents.

MR. F. B. HARPER was offered $18,000 for the racing qualities of Lavinia Bell, but declined, saying $75,000 would be no object. Mr. Harper has more money than he knows how to manage, and is very liberal in his contributions to local charities.—Lexington Gazette.

THE get of Longfellow and Billet have won this season in the neighborhood of $120,000 each, which is more than has ever stood to the credit of two stallions in one year in the history of the American turf. Longfellow's largest winner is the Bard, while Sir Dixon has captured more money than any other son or daughter of Billet.

Personal.

Deputy Collector Baldwin went to Cincinnati yesterday.

MR. A. F. RESSAP arrived from Frankfort Saturday evening.

Captain Val P. Collins and family have returned to Covington.

MR. H. C. McDONALD went to the "Queen City" yesterday on business.

GERMANY'S FLAG.

She Seems Very Anxious to Hoist It All Over the World.

HER INEXPERIENCE WILL CAUSE HER TROUBLE EVERYWHERE.

Indian Traders Ruined by German Interference. Trade to England for Recompense—It is a Question Whether They Will Get It or Not—Russo Building Pontoon Bridges—Notes.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Germany to the east is a problem that confronts the state which considers itself, with some justice, as the keystone of Europe, but whether the empire has not enough complications and dangers without seeking trouble outside of her own continent, is a question for its statesmen.

Apparently they think they have gone far to the east; that having planted the German flag over Samoa and the eastern coast of Africa, they must adhere to their policy impressing it on the world that the empire is a growing force, which, having succeeded in making it off a power to all others, feared and respected at home, intends to carry its language, manners and institutions to the ends of the earth. Fortunately for its earliest venture, it has only come into opposition with unarmed savages, but even with them its experience has not been perfectly satisfactory.

The Wissman expedition for the relief of Benin has been an exhibition of mere persistence than wisdom, perhaps, but, though many are under the impression that Emin and a still more gallant explorer have met a sad fate amid African wilds, the German effort commends itself as an ostentatious endeavor, and therefore appeals to human sympathy, in spite of a suspiciously political flavor attached to it.

Herr Von Bennigson said too much when he proclaimed that the expedition was necessary to restore the damaged German prestige and that the interests of the nation were involved in a greater degree than was apparent on the surface, but perhaps frankness has come into fashion diplomatically and the real policy of enlightened selfishness is to supercede all others openly as well as secretly.

Germany, it is safe to say, will have a certain amount of trouble with whatever nationality she encounters abroad. The English are brutal and non-conciliatory enough, but they have had some experience in dealing with semi-civilized people, and have required a certain amount of tact. Among other things they have learned is not to despise too much the slave Asiatic and the complaints made by the native Indian. Journals are likely to give Lord Salisbury some uneasy hours. Many Indian traders on the coast over whom Germany now exercises virtual sovereignty have been ruined by German interference with their business, and they naturally turn to England for recompense.

The question now arises, since the recompense cannot be denied them, will England make an effort to obtain a restoration in turn from Germany, and will such efforts meet with success? Such a result is hardly to be expected, but the attempt is likely to add another to the points of difference growing up between the two countries.

Something Being Held Back.

BERLIN, Dec. 3.—The German and Austrian press is muzzled on both sides of the line, and dare not publish certain occurrences during Emperor William's visit, which have aroused all feeling between the two members of the triple alliance. It is known that William treated Count Von Tiele, the Hungarian minister, with discourtesy, and that the Austrian premier is not satisfied with the existing situation. Meanwhile Russia is steadily advancing her war preparations.

A dispatch from Bucharest says Russia is crossing the Danube at Rani, in readiness to cross the Danube. Rani is in Bessarabia, near the confluence of the Pruth and Danube, and would seem to contemplate an advance through the Dobruzena upon Bulgaria, and an avoidance of all Danubian defenses.

They Ought to Take Warning.

LONDON, Dec. 3.—Lord Salisbury, in a speech at Edinburgh, said in reference to the treatment of Irishmen in Irish jails, that their treatment ought to deter others from following their example. As long as they were dangerous to the community they must be treated like other offenders. He warned the Unionists that they must watch Mr. Gladstone, whose tendency to accept the most extreme views of the Separatists in Ireland.

Zanzibar Insurgents.

BERLIN, Dec. 3.—At a meeting of the East African Plantation company it was announced that the insurgents at Zanzibar had destroyed and plundered property of the company at Lema. The company resolved to send a force to recover possession of Usambara.

The French Budget Accepted.

PARIS, Dec. 3.—The budget committee has assented to the plans of M. De Freycinet and M. Peytral, ministers of war and finance, respectively, for an extra war budget of a milliard of francs. The allotments for 1892 amount to 1,500,000 francs.

Foreign Notes.

Lord Randolph Churchill, it is announced, will not speak in public for several months. Col. Stoffel, formerly French military attaché, has been expelled from Alsace-Lorraine.

Emperor William is recovering from his recent indisposition. He is still confined to his bedroom, however.

The czar has sanctioned the marriage of the Grand Duke Alexis with Princess Helena, daughter of the Czar of the Czar.

In the house of commons the announcement was made that Sir Henry Norman had been appointed as governor of Queensland.

It is reported that Count Tolstoy is afflicted with softening of the brain, and will in consequence resign his portfolio in the cabinet.

During an engagement with east African insurgents, the German man of war lost a petty officer. Two of the crew were severely wounded.

The question of the delimitation of the French and the Dutch possessions in Guinea is to be submitted to arbitration by mutual agreement.

It is rumored that the New Guinea company is in difficulty, and has offered to sell its territory to the German government for 4,000,000 marks.

M. Eiffel, the famous French engineer, claims that his tower was already reached an altitude thirty-one meters higher than the Washington monument.

The French government, as a settlement of the difficulty experienced in the nomination of new French cardinals, proposes the transfer of Cardinal Lavigne from Algiers to Paris. The pope hesitates to accede to the proposition, desiring to bestow a cardinal's hat upon the present archbishop of Paris.

It is officially announced that the loan conversion scheme will go into operation on April 1, 1892, and that bonds will be issued either in cash or in new bonds.

It is stated that the original diary of the late Emperor Frederick, of Germany, is in possession of his widow, the dowager Empress Victoria, who has obtained a copyright upon it.

The Vossische Zeitung and the Post announce that the Kaiser's diary will be published, at the instance of the emperor, for publishing the Emperor Frederick's diary of 1886.

The Korean foreign minister authorizes a denial of the report of a Russian protection treaty with Korea. Korea aims solely at autonomy, and desires an amicable settlement with China.

M. Roumiev, of the Russian embassy at London, is mentioned for the post of Russian minister to the Vatican. In the event of the appointment of M. Roumiev, M. Isvolski will return to Washington.

The friends of John Bright are much pained at learning that the Gladstonian has selected Lord Compton, just defeated in the Ballin district of Finsbury, to contest his seat after his death, which they assume to be only a question of days.

Count Kinsky, son of the governor of Lower Austria, is suing for divorce on the ground that his wife, whom he recently married, deceived him as to her parentage, her family not being a noble one. Marriage with a plebeian deprives him of the inheritance of his family estates. The case is exciting great interest.

The parliamentary committee to inquire into the circumstances of the service of a summons upon Commoner David Sheehy in the lobby of the house of commons, continued its work Friday. The chief of the parliamentary police in the course of his examination, said that Constable Sullivan's business been known he could not have been admitted within the building.

BOLD ANARCHISTS.

Their Thanksgiving Ceremonies in Chicago of a Startling Character.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—The Anarchist pow-wow on Thanksgiving day at Theda hall was of a decidedly startling character. The place was crowded with men, women and children.

A picture represented an Anarchist female waving a particularly dangerous sword and summoning forth her followers. In the foreground is a workman engaged in stabbing with an immense two-edged sword a serpent, bearing the heads of Bismarck, the pope, Gladstone and the czar of Russia. Various men and women armed with the weapons of the French Communists are issuing from subterranean depths under the tomb of the hanged Anarchist.

In the background the Anarchist hosts are engaged in throwing bombs among the police, attacking scythes and other unpleasant implements into capitalists and other objectionable people. About the margin are the heads of Parsons and his companions. Altogether the picture is calculated to strike terror into the hearts of ordinary people.

Herman Loewe recited a poem, "Water User," the Lord's prayer, which was altered to suit the anarchistic idea. It condemned the rich and asked for benefits to the poor.

Albert Curran said that Thanksgiving was nothing else than a farce. The president did not feel thankful this year, because he was knocked out. There was no cause of being thankful. Many millions of people in this country had to work for their board from ten to sixteen hours a day. They did not make enough to buy clothes with and they could not go without. Half a million of little children worked in factories and shops for thirty-five cents a week, where they were morally and physically ruined. They had no reason to be thankful; they ought to curse the existing society because it was allowed.

A WEEK OVERDUE.

Steamer Domingo Probably Lost—Twenty-Three Persons on Board.

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 3.—The even line steamship Domingo, Capt. J. T. Wilson, from St. Jago, for this port, is a week overdue, and many fear she has foundered with all on board, twenty-three in number. Capt. Senders, of the British steamship Alone, from Kingston, Jamaica, says that on November 27th, he passed a deeply-laden brigantine-rigged British steamship. Her fires were out and the port anchor was used as a drag. The agents of the Domingo believe this to be their vessel. The British steamship Naper was hoisted close by, evidently trying to render the disabled craft assistance.

Coal Mines Shut Down.

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 3.—All of the coal mines along the Monongahela river have closed indefinitely. The operators claim that they have been losing money on account of over-supply, and are unable to keep their men at work. Over five thousand miners are thrown out of employment. They are ill prepared for a shut down at this season, and much suffering will no doubt result. The closing of the mines also makes a large number of boat builders, cankers and river men idle. It is estimated that over fifty million bushels of coal are now tied up at piers down the Ohio river, for which there is no market except at prices which are a loss to the operators.

Convicts Killed by an Explosion.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Dec. 3.—The second fatal dynamite explosion on the Kentucky Midland railroad within ten days occurred Thursday afternoon. Four men were killed and several dangerously wounded. The men working at the place where the explosion occurred were all convicts, leased from the state by contractors on the road. The men were blasting rock in a cut, when the dynamite charge was exploded while all were at work. James McNarry, the boss of the gang, was among the killed.

Too many men who want to make money by their wits forget they have hands as well as heads.—Burlington Hawk-Eye.

There is nothing so strong or safe, in any emergency of life, as the simple truth.—Charles Dickens.

AN AUTHOR WINS SUCCESS After Being Snubbed by Publishers He Prints His Own Book.

Mr. A. C. Gunter, who wrote the novel, "Mr. Barnes of New York," took it in manuscript to nearly all the leading publishers in New York, and every one of them refused to publish it. It was not that they found anything objectionable in it. They did not believe it would sell. Here comes an old moral—it has been pointed over since Ulysses wandered and Wallace starved. Mr. Gunter, stung by disappointment, instead of being staggered, went to work, organized his own publishing company, with no other purpose than to get his book before the world, printed and distributed it himself, and in an incredibly short time the book attained a circulation exceeding anything of the kind ever known here in the publishing business.

I was talking with Mr. Gunter the other night, and some of the details of his exploit are exceedingly interesting, now that the story has been put upon the stage and every third woman in the land is writing novels and on her knees to the publishers. He said that when he got his book printed his first struggle was to get it into the trade war circulation and even more discouraging than his attempts to get it published. By superhuman efforts he got the American News company to put 600 on sale. Mr. C. T. Dillingham took 250 under protest, and Riccino said that Mr. Gunter's personal friends would probably buy a hundred. In about five weeks the orders began to come in, and one day the American News company, under the impression that Mr. Gunter had not printed more than 1,000 copies, sent an order for all the books he had. He replied by sending them 7,000 copies, to their utter amazement. In two weeks they wanted 10,000 more.

Then was established what Mr. Gunter calls his publishing company, which so far has been confined in its labors to supplying the public with Mr. Gunter's two books, "Mr. Barnes of New York," and "Mr. Potter of Texas." The total sales of "Mr. Barnes of New York," up to date have been 700,000 copies. The sales of "Mr. Potter" have reached 210,000 copies. A more remarkable instance of the writing worm turning and stinging was never known.

"Mr. Barnes" has been translated into German, French and English. There are seven pirated editions of it in London, every one of which I have seen, and Cassell & Co., who refused to take Mr. Gunter's manuscript, published the story afterwards in serial form in their magazine without his leave.

All this is notable, the more so, perhaps, because the American newspapers have repeatedly called attention to the fact that the last work of M. Zola reached the enormous edition of 35,000 copies. The result of the publishers' refusal to accept Mr. Gunter's story is that Mr. Gunter will make something like $100,000.—Nym Crinkle in New York World.

Boys' Industrial School Report.

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 3.—The managers of the Boys' Industrial School at Lancaster have filed their annual report with the governor. It shows that the cost of running the institution was $47,811.40, or $86.48 per capita. Hamilton county has 32 inmates, Cuyahoga 36, and Lucas 58, making a total from all counties of 536. Cuyahoga county sent 57, Hamilton 30, and Lucas 27 during the current year. Out of the total, 123 are American, 32 German, and 17 Irish.

Coal in Dakota.

CHAMBERLAIN, Dak., Dec. 3.—A large vein of coal has just been discovered eight miles south of this city. The coal is of a good quality, and arrangements will be made for further developing the vein at once. The discovery causes great excitement.

Arrested on a Serious Charge.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Dec. 3.—George B. Willis was arrested at Waverly, Tenn., Friday, charged with being one of the men who robbed the hotel in this city. Bigger jumped from the hotel window while the building was burning, and was killed. It is believed that his room had previously been robbed and the hotel set on fire to cover up the work of the thieves.
